

OPEN CALL FOR ARTISTS

For its upcoming exhibit, Print&Play holds an open call for 15 artists to create printable artworks. For the third edition of Print&Play we want to take a look outside with the theme: "Inside Out: a Structure of Feeling."

"A structure of feeling lies deeply embedded in our lives; it cannot be merely extracted and summarized; it is perhaps only in art - and this is the importance of art - that it can be realized, and communicated, as a whole experience."

Raymond Williams

Print&Play is an open exhibition format that uses regular A4 paper to create a full exhibition. It shows art outside of the white cube, and showcases upcoming artists in times when real life access to art is limited. Print&Play can be exhibited by anyone, anywhere. Simply print the instructions and choose a selection of artworks. The only thing you need for this show is a printer and some office supplies.

Print&Play has created exhibitions with Museum Boijmans Van Beuningen, and various international artists. For this exhibition we are setting up a guided and funded trajectory for artists to participate in and create new work. The form of the artwork is flexible: reproducible print media, photography, (paper) sculpture, stencils, performance, video or audio work. Anything goes, as long as A4 paper forms the basis of the artwork. We encourage ideas that make full use of the medium of print and replicable artwork, and play to interaction between artist and the person putting the exhibition in their homes.

Inspiration can be found in our previous exhibition at www.printandplayexhibition.com or on our social channels @printandplayexhibition.

A budget of 1700 euros (incl.) per artist is available for participating in the project, the creation, and licensing of the artwork in the exhibition, in line with the guidelines of Fair Practice Code. We will support the participating artists in creating the work, which will start on 9th of February. The exhibition itself will be launched in May.

To apply, mail your proposal in the form of a pdf before January 29th 23:59 to info@printandplayexhibition.com with the following deliverables:

- A proposal for a new artwork (consisting of a concise text or visual examples)
- Your portfolio (max 10 pages)
- A short description of the work (max. 1 page)
- A short bio (max. 1 page)
- Contact info (full name, e-mail, phone number)
- Filename: FirstnameLastname-pnp.pdf

On February 2nd we will contact the artists shortlisted for an interview. Video interviews are scheduled for 5 and 6 February 2021. The final selection will be communicated on February 8th.

The process of guidance and participating in this exhibition will be completely online. While this project is based in The Netherlands, we encourage international applications.

This exhibition is supported by the Stimuleringsfonds Creatieve Industrie.
